

October 10, 2006
For More Information:
Heather McCune
949-553-9100 ext. 245
hmccune@bassenianlagoni.com

Nick Lehnert Joins Bassenian Lagoni Architects

In support of its vision, “To provide creative design leadership coupled with uncompromising service,” Bassenian/Lagoni Architects, Newport Beach, Ca. announces that home building veteran Nick Lehnert, formerly director of strategic marketing and product development for Centex Homes, South Coast Division, has joined the firm as vice president. Lehnert brings to Bassenian Lagoni Architects a wealth of knowledge on the building industry, an understanding of disciplined design that matches client and project objectives, as well as the talent to help the firm continue to develop and advance innovative residential design concepts.

In his new role, Lehnert will help the 140-person firm maintain a leadership role in the industry through an aggressive research and development program. He will also work to develop market-based resources others in the firm can use to become better partners with the company’s builder and developer clients.

“We delight in welcoming Nick Lehnert to the Bassenian Lagoni family,” says President Carl Lagoni. “Nick brings the builder experience and know-how that will help us sharpen every aspect of our organization and further improve the quality of the design and the service we provide to our clients.”

more

“As client of Bassenian Lagoni Architects for many years with many different organizations, I know first hand their innovative design solutions and their superior service level,” says Lehnert. “I’m thrilled and honored to work along side such an excellent team of professionals, and I’m excited about the opportunity to help move the organization forward.”